American Student Transportation Partners (ASTP) is driving the future of student transportation by providing reliable access to education via safe, efficient student transportation programs.

ASTP is a powerful partner for student transportation operators who want to expand their footprint through organic growth via new bid wins and acquisitions within attractive markets.

We provide our contractor partners with access to a wealth of resources that support growth in competitive marketplaces, including proven marketing strategies, modern recruiting techniques, and strategic sourcing capabilities.

Established in 2021 by Access Holdings, our purpose is to partner with top-tier student transportation operators who are committed to growing their businesses, leading their markets, and better serving the communities that rely on them.
